Announcement of new company name

As announced on June 20, 2025, Sojitz Pla-Net Corporation (“Sojitz Pla-Net”) and its wholly owned subsidiary Pla Matels Corporation (“Pla Matels”) have planned to establish a new company on April 1, 2027, with the aim of enhancing management efficiency in the synthetic resin business, strengthening governance, and maximizing synergies. We are pleased to announce that the name of the new company has now been decided, as outlined below.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude for the continued support extended to both companies over the years. Under the new company structure, we remain fully committed to providing even greater value and expanding business with our partners.

Until the establishment date, Sojitz Pla-Net and Pla Matels will continue to serve as the respective points of contact for all business transactions. We will continue to deliver solutions that exceed the expectations of our business partners. We respectfully request your continued support and patronage.
